

William Wei is a Professor of History at the University of Colorado at Boulder. He received his Ph.D. in 1978 from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, and is an authority on modern Chinese history and Asian American Studies. He is the author of Counterrevolution in China: The Nationalists in Jiangxi during the Soviet Period (Michigan, 1985) and The Asian American Movement (Temple, 1993), and many other publications. His latest book is Asians in Colorado: Persecution and Perseverance in the Centennial State (University of Washington Press, Spring 2016). He has held a Rockefeller Fellowship, Mellon Fellowship, and Fulbright-Hays Fellowship. In the summer of 1997, he worked as a journalist covering the historic handover of Hong Kong to China. In the summer of 2003 he was on the faculty of and in the summer of 2006 he was the Academic Dean of the Semester at Sea Program, visiting various countries around the Pacific Rim.